Dear Parent/Guardian,

Relationships, Sexual Health and Parenthood Education

As you may be aware, a new national Relationships, Sexual Health and Parenthood Education resource has been developed for use in Scottish schools. TASC(Scotland) was commissioned to create the resource by a partnership of NHS Boards and Local Authorities with advice from Education Scotland and the Scottish Government.

City of Edinburgh Council is pleased to support the use of this resource in our schools as it will provide our children and young people with a current and relevant educational experience in this crucial aspect of the curriculum.

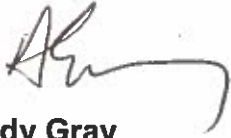

It is recognised that religious authorities with a role in denominational education provide guidance on RSHP education for their denominational schools. The City of Edinburgh Council supports the right of the Roman Catholic Church to give witness to its faith, and to uphold the traditions of Catholic education. For the Catholic schools within the City of Edinburgh Council this national resource website should be seen to be complementary to the guidance and resources provided by the Roman Catholic Church – God's Loving Plan and Called to Love.

The resource is online and can be accessed by parents and carers. There is information for parents and carers about learning at home and learning in school.

If you have any further questions regarding the resource, please do not hesitate to contact your child's school.

Kind regards
