You've been invited to our
Recruitment Workshop for Edinburgh Regional Choir!

Dear Parent/Carer,

Heather Glasspool, a Music Specialist from the National Youth Choir of Scotland (NYCOS) recently came to your school as part of our In School Programme, hosting singing workshops for children in Edinburgh. We often receive inquiries about how these newfound skills and passion for singing can be nurtured further. Therefore, we would like to extend an invitation to your child to attend a recruitment workshop, providing them with the opportunity to try out for our Edinburgh Regional Choir.

NYCOS is Scotland's largest (and most fun) youth singing organisation offering a rich and rewarding experience that nurtures not only musical talent but also personal growth, social skills, and a deep appreciation for the art of music. There are proven benefits of learning how to sing with developing stronger literacy and other transferable skills.

Choirs are great places to make friends and learn how to perform as part of a group. With choirs all over Scotland, members can take part in events with 100s of other singers. Each choir is led by enthusiastic, supportive highly trained musicians and as well as singing, members also learn to read music through fun musical games in our Musicianship sessions. Singing is a skill every child can develop and singing alongside other children creates camaraderie and team spirit.

What next?

The recruitment workshop is an opportunity for children to take part in fun, engaging singing games, during which, the musicianship tutor and/or the Choir Director will assess their voice for readiness to be offered a place in the choir. Once the workshop is complete, you will be emailed to be notified of whether or not your child has been offered a place this year.

Please book a space for your child to come along to our Edinburgh Regional Choir try out session which will take place in
